TO WILLIAM LOWELL PUTNAM.

APTER SEEING TWO PHOTOGRAPHS OF HIM The trumpet, now on every gale, For triumph or in funeral-wail. One leason bloweth loud and clear Above war's clangor to my car.

The blood that flows in bounding veins, The blood that ebbs with lingering pains, Burings living from the self-same heart, Courage and patience act one part.

Doers and sufferers of God's will Tread to each other's footprint still : Soldier as saint bath equal mind, When yows of truth the spirit bind.

Two portraits light my chamber-wall Here and martyr to recall; Lines of a single face they keep, To make beholders glow or weep.

With gleaming hilt, girt for the frag Freedem demands, he cannot stay : Forward his motion, keen his glance : 'Tis victory painted in a trance.

But, lo! he turns, he folds his hands; With farther, softening gaze he stands; His sword is bidden from his eyes; His head is bont for sacrilice.

Through looks that match each varied thought Of hely work or offering brought Upon the sunbeams shirting scroll. Shines out alike the steady soul.

Young leader! quick to win a name Coeval with thy country's fame, For either fortune thou wast born .-The crown of laurel or of thorn.

THE

TWO AND A HALF O'CLOCK.

THE ARMIES IN MARYLAND.

A morning paper correspondent at Middlebrook snys our army is advancing very slowly and there were indication that the rebels were in force a few miles beyond that place. He estimates the relief force about Frederick at eighly thousand but says the main torce of rebels is believed to be back of Leesburg numbering over one bundred thousand men. It is positively assorted to night that the reliels give signs of an intention to hold for a time the line of the Monocacy, on which there has been skirmishing to-day. Lee had when he outered Maryland thirty or forty 12 pounders, but a very small amount of ammunition and he hopes to supply this want in Mory and as well as the necessities of his men and horses for food. Scouting parties of robels have recently been within forty miles of Baltimore on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad and carried Away telegraph instruments from several stations.

A Baltimore correspondent states that within he past; weak several of the leading Unionist in town received annoymous letters written and mailed in this city threatening to hang them to the lamp posts when Jackson should arrive,

OUR FORCES SURROUNDED AT CUMBERLAND GAP.

A letter from Cumberland Gap 28th says, resurrounded and our supplies are cut off. The rehels have 20,000 men just out of cannon shot in our front and their pickets run across the mountains from Knoxville to the Valley up within two miles of this Gap. More of the enemys troops are now on their way from Knexville and two rebel columns have also moved in our rear, one of which crossed ever by Rogers and the other by Big Creek Gap.

One of these columns under Kirby Smith is about to push its way to northern Kentucky and or the time this reaches you the whole of Eastern Kentucky will fall into the hands of the rebels and we may be isolated. We have begged for reinforcements for two months past that we might penetrate into East Tennessee, where both friends and supplies await us but the authorities at Washington his new and extensive stock of have torond a dast ear to our entreaties.

.The enemy is unable to cope with such determined men as compose this little army. I am assured by the highest authority here that in no event will Comberland Gap be surrendered or evacuated. The only means the rebels have of destroying us is to starve us to death and I own that in this respect the prospect looks somewhat gloomy. If the reliels now moving northward reach the Ohio river wa shall then despair of relief and by the and of September or October our bones bleaching on the mountains may be all tha can be found of Gen. Morgans army.

Gen Morgan says that if apprized of the apprach of a reliefing force he himself would advance to meet it with a portion of his army and cut his way through or perish in the attempt. Dally and hour ly we look anxiously for relief. High on the nountain peaks this little army defiantly up holds the flaming emblem of the Republic, God forbid that our government should leave us to be starved or slaughtered out by piece meak and uncared to in these solitudes.

ADVANCE OF THE REBELS.

H creisirus Pa., 12th. One of our seints who has returned from Fredericks says that the Rebols have broken up their encomponent at Fredericks and are marching on Hagerstown. The rebel forces consisted of infanlry and artillery and they had over there hundred pieces of cannon some of which were very large.-The Rebel Generals R. E. Lee, Stonewall Jeckson, Il Cobb and others were with them.

Our scouts saw as he supposed five thousand Rebel Cavalry near New Market which had not left camp. The rabels had many pieces of cannon marked United States and also many horses mules and Wagons marked in the same way. The opin ion prevailed among all the Rebel soldiers that they were going into Pensylvania.

Since the receipt of the foregoing reliable informs tion has been received that Stonewall Jackson with his advance is now in Hagiristown preparing to move with his whole army upon Pennsylvania,-Our scouts from Hanover, Gettisburg and James town arrived here at a late hour last night and confirm the evacuation of the camps at Frederick by the robels.

Governor Curtis has promptly advised President Lincoln and the Generals in command at Washing ion of all information that has reached there through the numerous channels under his control The most active measures are being put in force to assemble a large army to resist the rebel invasion and if possible save our capital and state from deviatation and outrage.

The telegraph operator at Chambershurg Mr Wilson has rendered services almost invaluable in reporting to Gov. Curtin the condition of affair when almost surrounded by the enemy. Men composing the companies under the call of Gov. Curtin for militia services provided themselves with a gun and 50 rounds of fixed ainmunition to suit the calibre of their pieces as it will be impossible for the State to formish arms to such a large num
